SAFEGUARD THE CHILDREN'S CORNER

What color swimsuit is best for water safety

Drowning is one of the leading causes of death for children. If you plan to take your children to the pool or beach this summer, you want to pick out a safe swimsuit. Studies have shown that light colored, or white swimwear is very hard to see underwater, making the wearer seem to disappear. The light colors are even more undetectable with water agitation. Stick to bright, bold colors and neon patterns to be able to spot your children when they are playing and swimming. For more information, read the TODAY article "Why swim instructors are warning parents against certain swimsuit colors"

En español: El ahogamiento es una de las principales causas de muerte de niños. Si planea llevar a sus hijos a la piscina o a la playa este verano, lo recomendable es que elija un traje de baño seguro. Estudios han demostrado que los trajes de baño blancos o de colores claros son muy difíciles de ver bajo el agua, lo que hace que quien los usa pareciera desaparecer de la vista de los demás. Los colores claros son aún más imperceptibles cuando se agita el agua. Mantenga su selección de colores brillantes y llamativos y patrones de neon para poder detectar a sus hijos cuando estén jugando y nadando. DEAR OUR LADY OF GRACE FAMILY,Praised be Jesus Christ...now and forever!

This past Sunday concluded one of the most important events in the recent history for U.S Catholics—the National Eucharistic Congress—which returned after 83 years. Cardinal Luis Antonio Tagle, was the Pope's representative for this event. Below you can read some of Cardinal Tagle's remarks about the importance of continuing the Eucharistic Revival in our country and for the world.

"Reflecting on the theme of the National Eucharistic Congress, from the Gospel of John "Remain in Me", Pope Francis' special envoy to the event highlighted Jesus' mission as a gift from the Father.

"Jesus is sent to be given by the Father to others," Cardinal Luis Antonio Tagle said during his homily, and he explained that the Eucharist encapsulates this gift, as Jesus offers His body and blood for the life of the world.

The Cardinal, who is the Pro-Prefect for the Section of Evangelization of the Dicastery for Evangelization, celebrated Holy Mass at the National Eucharistic Congress in Indianapolis, Indiana, that concluded on Sunday, July 21. He challenged the faithful to see their own lives and the world through the lens of gift rather than mere achievement. "Do we still look at ourselves, persons, objects, work, society, events, and creation within the horizon of gift?" he asked, warning that losing this perspective leads to self-absorption and a lack of missionary zeal.

The pain of leaving Jesus

Cardinal Tagle addressed the difficult reality of disciples who abandoned Jesus, as narrated in the Gospel of John, chapter 6, and he invited introspection on whether the Church's actions sometimes contribute to this departure.

"Is it possible that we disciples contribute to the departure of others from Jesus?" he asked, urging a deeper engagement with the Eucharist and its transformative power.

He also highlighted the need to welcome those who feel marginalized, such as the poor, migrants, and the elderly, ensuring they feel part of the Church community.

A call to Eucharistic Missionaries

Cardinal Tagle said that those who choose to stay with Jesus must also be willing to be sent by Him. "We should not keep Jesus to ourselves. That is not discipleship. That is selfishness," he stated, and he called on the faithful to share the love and compassion they have received from Jesus with the weary, the lost, and the divided.

Message from Pope Francis

Cardinal Tagle finally conveyed the blessings and prayers of Pope Francis, whom he said wrote him a letter expressing the hope "that the participants of the Congress, fully aware of the universal gifts they receive from heavenly food, may impart them to others."

The papal envoy concluded by telling a story from his time as a parish priest and that, he said, illustrates the need to live out the Eucharist in daily life. It is the story of a woman whose extraordinary devotion resulted in her being present at the Church on all occasions and at all times. But when he thanked her for her dedication and asked her to thank her family for allowing her to serve, she said her constant presence derived from the fact that she wanted to avoid her family.

"When the priest or deacon says, 'The Mass is ended. Go in the peace of Christ,' please go! What you have heard, touched, and tasted, you must share with others," he exclaimed.

In the Heart of Jesus,

Fr. Marinello Sagun

QUERIDA FAMILIA DE NUESTRA
SEÑORA DE LA GRACIA,
¡Alabado sea Jesucristo hoy y siempre!

El pasado domingo concluyó uno de los eventos más importantes de la historia reciente para los católicos estadounidenses: el Congreso Eucarístico Nacional, que regresó después de 83 años. El cardenal Luis Antonio Tagle, fue el representante del Papa para este evento. A continuación puede leer algunos de los comentarios del Cardenal Tagle sobre la importancia de continuar el Avivamiento Eucarístico en nuestro país y para el mundo.

"Reflexionando sobre el tema del Congreso Eucarístico Nacional, a partir del Evangelio de Juan "Permaneced en Mí", el enviado especial del Papa Francisco al evento destacó la misión de Jesús como don del Padre.

"Jesús es enviado para ser entregado por el Padre a los demás", dijo el cardenal Luis Antonio Tagle durante su homilía, y explicó que la Eucaristía resume este don, como Jesús ofrece su cuerpo y su sangre por la vida del mundo.

El Cardenal, quien es Pro-Prefecto de la Sección de Evangelización del Dicasterio para la Evangelización, celebró la Santa Misa en el Congreso Eucarístico Nacional en Indianápolis, Indiana, que concluyó el domingo 21 de julio. Retó a los fieles a ver sus propias vidas y el mundo a través de la lente del don y no del mero logro. "¿Nos miramos todavía a nosotros mismos, a las personas, a los objetos, al trabajo, a la sociedad, a los acontecimientos y a la creación en el horizonte del don?" preguntó, advirtiendo que perder esta perspectiva conduce al ensimismamiento y a la falta de celo misionero.

El dolor de dejar a Jesús

El cardenal Tagle abordó la difícil realidad de los discípulos que abandonaron a Jesús, tal como se narra en el Evangelio de Juan, capítulo 6, e invitó a la introspección sobre si las acciones de la Iglesia contribuyen en ocasiones a esta partida.

"¿Es posible que los discípulos contribuyamos al alejamiento de otros de Jesús?" preguntó, instando a un compromiso más profundo con la Eucaristía y su poder transformador.

También destacó la necesidad de acoger a quienes se sienten marginados, como los pobres, los inmigrantes y los ancianos, haciéndoles sentir parte de la comunidad de la Iglesia.

Un llamado a los Misioneros Eucarísticos

El cardenal Tagle dijo que quien elige quedarse con Jesús también debe estar dispuesto a ser enviado por Él.

"No debemos guardar a Jesús para nosotros mismos. Eso no es discipulado. Eso es egoísmo", afirmó, y llamó a los fieles a compartir el amor y la compasión que han recibido de Jesús con los cansados, los perdidos y los divididos.

Mensaje del Papa Francisco

El cardenal Tagle finalmente transmitió las bendiciones y oraciones del Papa Francisco, quien, según dijo, le escribió una carta expresando la esperanza "de que los participantes del Congreso, plenamente conscientes de los dones universales que reciben del alimento celestial, puedan impartirlos a los demás".

El enviado papal concluyó contando una historia de su época como párroco y que, dijo, ilustra la necesidad de vivir la Eucaristía en la vida diaria.

Es la historia de una mujer cuya extraordinaria devoción la llevó a estar presente en la Iglesia en todas las ocasiones y en todo momento. Pero cuando él le agradeció su dedicación y le pidió que agradeciera a su familia por permitirle servir, ella dijo que su presencia constante derivaba de que quería evitar a su familia.

"Cuando el sacerdote o el diácono diga: 'La misa ha terminado. Id en la paz de Cristo', ¡por favor ve! Lo que has oído, tocado y probado, debes compartirlo con los demás", exclamó.

27 GLOTOWO, POLAND GLOTOWO, POLONIA

"In 1290, due to the invasion of the Lithuanians, a priest from the village of Glotowo, buried in a field a silver ciborium plated in gold with a consecrated Host still in it which he missed by mistake. The Lithuanian's troops destroyed the village and the church. None of the survivors knew about the hidden Host. Only a number of years later, while plowing the field in the spring, a farmer found it by chance, thanks to the strange behavior of his oxen. They had bowed to the ground in adoration of the Host which was emanating a very bright light. " (source: miracolieucaristici.org developed by Bl. Carlo Acutis)

En español:

En 1290, debido a la invasión de los lituanos, un sacerdote del pueblo de Glotowo enterró en un campo un copón de plata bañado en oro con una hostia consagrada todavía en él, que por error se le pasó por alto. Las tropas lituanas destruyeron el pueblo y la iglesia. Ninguno de los supervivientes sabía nada de la Hostia oculta. Sólo unos años más tarde, mientras araba el campo en primavera, un granjero lo encontró por casualidad, gracias al extraño comportamiento de sus bueyes. Se habían inclinado hasta el suelo en adoración a la Hostia de la que emanaba una luz muy brillante.
